

WHILE SUPPLIES LAST: TIME FOR COUNTRIES TO INVEST MORE IN CONTRACEPTIVES

ACCESS TO CONTRACEPTION IS TRANSFORMATIVE FOR WOMEN AND COMMUNITIES.

GREATER GENDER EQUALITY

ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT

EDUCATIONAL ATTAINMENT

BUT THE WORLD IS ON THE VERGE OF A CONTRACEPTIVE CRISIS

DONORS ARE ALREADY FALLING FAR SHORT OF THEIR PROMISES

UNFPA IS FACING A NEARLY 40% BUDGET SHORTFALL

AND MILLIONS OF WOMEN'S LIVES ARE AT STAKE

MOST LIVE IN SUB-SAHARAN AFRICAN COUNTRIES WHOSE GOVERNMENTS ARE HEAVILY DEPENDENT ON DONOR FUNDING

OF THE COUNTRIES WITH DATA

42%
have no budget line for contraceptives
for women

65%
cover less than 10% of the contraceptive needs of women

92%
rely on donors to meet over half of the contraceptive
needs of women

46%
rely entirely on donors to meet
the contraceptive
needs of women

WITHOUT FUNDING, WOMEN WILL LOSE THE RIGHT TO MAKE THEIR OWN REPRODUCTIVE HEALTH DECISIONS.

WHAT CAN WE DO?

DONORS
NEED TO STEP UP TO FILL THE CURRENT FUNDING GAP

NOW

FUTURE

DEVELOPING COUNTRY GOVERNMENTS MUST INVEST MORE IN FAMILY PLANNING AND REDUCE THEIR RELIANCE ON DONOR
FUNDING

STABLE CONTRACEPTIVE SUPPLIES WILL ENSURE THE HEALTH AND WELLBEING OF WOMEN NOW AND IN THE FUTURE

SOURCES

UNFPA Supplies' budget shortfall was calculated by dividing the funding gap of $45 million from the needed budget of $120 million. The total gap and needed budget come from personal communication with Jennie Greaney, Technical Specialist at UNFPA (May 4, 2016).

Data and calculations available upon request.

The countries for this graphic are the FP2020 focus countries located in sub-Saharan Africa that have 2015 data from USAID DELIVER's CS Indicators. All data on government and donor funding for contraceptives is from USAID DELIVER's CS Indicators. Data on government funding for contraceptives includes some donor funding that passes through the government's budget.
